SECURITY TRAINING SOLUTIONS TAILORED TO FIT YOUR NEEDS

The Team at Security Advisors Consulting Group has more than fifty years combined experience developing and providing presentations and training to audiences.

Our instructors have experience developing training programs for corporate, healthcare, educational, retail, and hospitality organizations and have been employed as instructors at law enforcement academies, technical colleges, and four-year institutions.

Let us work with you to design a training curriculum for your organization.

Most active shooter training programs concentrate on how employees should respond once a shooting has already started and are focused only on limiting the damage.

We recognize the problems with this philosophy and developed our Situational Threat Awareness Assessment & Action Training (STAAAT). STAAAT focuses on providing your employees the tools to recognize the escalating phases of an incident and appropriate protective action to take within each phase, hopefully de-escalating or preventing the incident from ever turning deadly.
